STAR ECO Station
Cabrillo Marine Aquarium

General Synopsis for Episode #1210B

In Pets.tv INSIDER episode viewers go behind the scenes with host Christina Dietz and Duchess about 3 special places to visit and learn. Briana Messerschmidt at Hollywood Paws is a dog trainer and talent agent who shares what it takes for a dog to become a 'doggie star'. After the basic behaviors are mastered dogs are then taught fundamental studio work. As a talent agent Briana looks at many photos of dogs and talks to the owners to see if the dogs are in training. This helps her determine if they might be able to act. Katriana Bozzi, co-founder of STAR ECO Station states, "Animals are ambassadors to teach about their country, what are good pets and what should stay in the wild".

Viewers are introduced and provided information about some special exotic animals at the center. ECO Station has a mobile museum that goes into the community by visiting schools with an educational outreach program. Animal exhibits allow students to interact with exotic and dangerous animals and educates students on animal conservation.

Cabrillo Marine Aquarium is located in San Pedro, CA. The aquarium is located next to the ocean and the Cabrillo Coastal Park where visitors can go on whale watching cruises. The museum's touch pools provide opportunities for visitors to touch sea stars, sea urchins and sea anemones. The aquarium's aquatic nursery is a research lab where they breed and raise baby animals to fill the aquarium's tanks and share with other institutions.
